NMDOT District Two Looking to Hire in Southeastern New Mexico

ROSWELL – The New Mexico Department of Transportation (NMDOT) District Two is looking to fill essential worker positions in maintenance, construction, engineering, and business support in Southeastern New Mexico.

There are positions available in several areas of District Two, which includes ten counties, incorporating approximately 7,750 lane miles of state highway and 530 bridge structures, with more than thirty construction and maintenance projects underway at any given time.

“With so much work happening year-round, it’s crucial to have highly skilled and motivated employees to keep roads safe for the traveling public,” said Tim Parker, District Two Engineer. “We are seeking positive hard-working professionals to join our team.”
